

Conference 2011

Unraveling Multiple Maritime Casualties

Guest of Honour: Assoc Prof Ho Peng Kee, Senior Minister of State for Law and Home Affairs

Date: 25th March 2011 Venue: The Auditorium , Supreme Court, Singapore

Venue : The Auditorium

Supreme Court of Singapore

SCMA Conference 2011 addresses the disputes and problems typically arising from vessels caught up in multiple casualties involving collision, pollution, fire and personal injury (amongst many other complications) whilst in port and also the many cross liabilities between parties. Drawing from SCMA's diverse membership of professional practitioners in the legal and arbitration fields and supported by highly experienced experts from the maritime community, the conference will showcase their experience and expertise on how to unravel issues arising from the above, settle the responsibilities, liabilities and obligations and remedy the contractual rights of the parties and the seaworthiness of the vessels.

Topics under deliberation:

- Cargo Damage and transshipment to a substitute carrier
- Examination of rights & obligations of parties engaged in international trade
- Hull and Machinery damage: Expectations of underwriters and class for handling of repairs and restoration of seaworthiness
- General average
- Charter party: Dealing with liabilities, cancellation options & impact on short term / long term underlying charters
- B/L – Re-issue of fresh B/L's, examination of implications and indemnities
- Collision – Determination of jurisdiction and examination of liabilities
- Salvage
- Pollution – Oil spill clean up and liabilities, port state exception and indemnities needed
- Evidence and witness preservation
- Arbitration
- Ship Arrest
- Management of crew injuries

Conference would consist of 2 morning and 2 afternoon sessions. Each expert presenter has 15 minutes to identify/examine key issues involved in their areas of specialty, illustrate any linkages to other presentations and suggest sample remedies.

Entire conference proceedings will be recorded on DVD's saving participants from having to take notes

The Organizer

SCMA was established in 2004 and operated under the umbrella of SIAC (Singapore International Arbitration Centre). In May 2009, SCMA was re-organised as a company limited by guarantee with its own set of re-drafted arbitration rules and started operating independently from SIAC. It is guided by its principal aim of providing a comprehensive framework for conducting maritime arbitration in Singapore which is responsive to the needs of the global maritime community. SCMA has members drawn from all sectors of the local and international maritime community and it has a panel of both local and international arbitrators all of whom are well versed with maritime matters. Consistent with SCMA's model of un-administered arbitration, claimants and respondents have full autonomy to appoint arbitrators of their own choice or to appoint members from SCMA's panel of arbitrators to resolve their disputes.
